Unlocking Value With PAMM/MAM:

For PAMM (Percentage Allocation Management Module) account managers, we offer a robust trading platform that allows you to manage multiple sub-accounts under one main account. With detailed reporting and analysis tools, you can accurately track the performance of your strategies and optimize your fund management to maximize returns.

PAMM Account Example

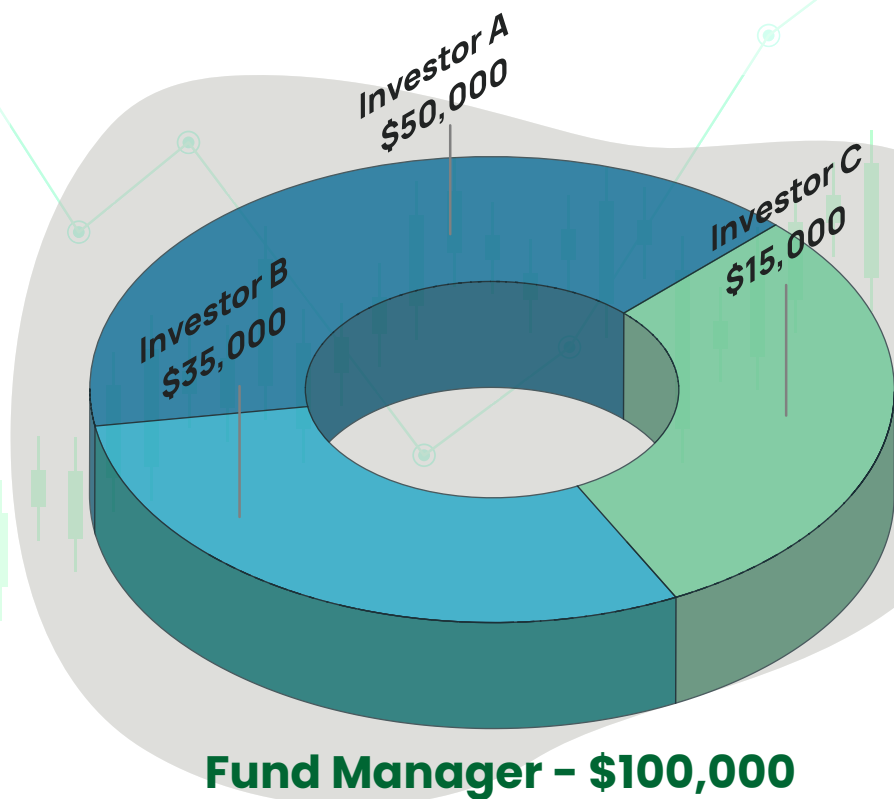

To understand the setup and participants involved in a PAMM account, let's walk through an example. The key participants are:

- The forex broker (Vantage)
- Money managers (Fund Managers)
- Investors

Now, let's consider three investors: Investor A, Investor B, and Investor C. They aspire to trade the forex market using a PAMM solution and decide to collaborate. To make this possible, they each open individual PAMM accounts with Vantage, the forex broker.

An experienced fore trader takes on the role of the Money Manager and becomes a Vantage PAMM Fund Manager. By doing so, the Money Manager aims to optimize their earnings through successful trades and earn a performance fee. Investors A, B, and C select this Money Manager as their Vantage PAMM Fund Manager to trade on their behalf.

- Investor C - $15,000
- Investor B - $35,000
- Investor A - $50,000
- Fund Manager - $100,000

In this example, Investors A, B and C pool their funds together where they invest $50,000, $35,000, and $15,000 respectively. The total investment amounts to $100,000. The Money Manager charges a 20% performance fee on the earnings.

Let's assume that during the investment period, there is a 12.5% gain, resulting in earnings of $12,500. After deducting the performance fee of $2,500 (20% of $12,500), the remaining $10,000 is distributed among the participants based on their share of the pool:

- Investor A: Receives 50% ($5,000) of the net earnings
- Investor B: Receives 35% ($3,500) of the net earnings
- Investor C: Receives 15% ($1,500) of the net earnings

This example demonstrates the potential advantages of using a PAMM account. By pooling their funds, investors can leverage the expertise of professional traders and distribute earnings based on their respective contributions.

If you are interested in trading multiple accounts simultaneously, our MAM (Multi-Account Manager) accounts are the ideal solution for you. With our dedicated platform for MAM accounts, you can execute trades efficiently and adjust lot or risk allocation according to your preferences.
